

Creating an ONLINE COURSE

1

PROPOSAL SUBMISSION

AAAAI constituency (e.g., committee, assembly, or task force) submits a proposal during the annual open call for proposals every October through November.

2

PROPOSAL REVIEW

The Office of Medical Education (OME) reviews all proposals and selects projects for development. Priority is given to those that address knowledge gaps from the AAAAI Needs Assessment.

3

NOTIFICATION OF SELECTION

Based on OME's rankings, authors will be notified of their course's selection. If not selected, a different method of delivery may be suggested.

4

INTAKE MEETING & PROJECT PLANNING

Staff conduct an intake meeting with course authors to confirm course details.

5

DISCLOSURE REVIEW

The Continuing Certification and Professional Education Committee (CCPE) reviews all authors' disclosures.

6

FACULTY DEVELOP CONTENT

Course authors develop content using the outline and learning objectives as guides. Staff are available for consultation, but are not content authors.

7

STAFF BUILD COURSE

Staff design and develop the course using Articulate 360.

8

CONTENT REVIEW

Authors provide feedback on the content and design, and staff make revisions.

9

FINAL CME APPROVAL

The Chair of the submitting constituency and OME will review the course and give final approval as a CME activity.

10

PUBLISH COURSE

The course is published in the Continuing Education Center and promoted to the target audience. Evaluation data will be shared with course authors, as needed.
